

Get Outside! Nature-Based Learning for Early Childhood Educators

PRESENTED IN PARTNERSHIP WITH AEOE & THE CENTER FOR NATURE & PLACE

Have you heard the buzz about the benefits of bringing nature and place to young learners?

This half-day workshop on nature- and place-based learning in the early years is geared towards early childhood through elementary school educators.

Workshop includes instruction, a tour of the Environmental Nature Center's Preschool, and a light lunch.

Following this workshop, participants will be able to:

- Summarize the benefits of interaction with nature for young children
- Choose approaches for exploring the natural world and local community with children
- Discuss nature- and place-based strategies for curriculum integration, standards alignment, and developmental goals
- Create plans for integrating nature-based learning into teaching practices and current curriculum

When: Saturday, March 21, 2020

Time: 10 a.m. - 2 p.m.

Where: Muth Interpretive Center, Newport Beach

Cost: $10 for AEOE Members, $20 for non-members

Register: www.AEOE.org/events

Questions? Contact Katie Andersen, katie@aeoe.org

