

California Association for Environmental and Outdoor Education presents the California Statewide Environmental Education Spring Conference 2019
Friday, March 29 - Sunday, March 31

“Teaching Outside the Box”

Westminster Woods, located in Occidental, CA

Early bird registration deadline: Sunday 3/03

For more information visit: <https://aeoe.org/events>

Nestled in 200 acres of a coastal redwood forest in Sonoma County, a short drive from the Pacific Ocean. Dutch Bill Creek, a Coho salmon habitat, flows under the lush canopy, providing unique learning opportunities.

Apply to present a workshop, presenter application deadline Sunday, 2/24:

<https://bit.ly/2FrLXAE>

Obi Kaufmann, Keynote Speaker, Poet, Painter, Conservationist, and Author of the bestselling and award-winning California Field Atlas, blending science and art to illuminate the multifaceted array of the natural world.

Estrella Risinger, Opening Speaker, AEOE Executive Director, is thrilled to be kicking off this year’s conference on the importance of identity and belonging in forging a connection to the natural world.

60+ environmental education workshops - Enjoy a keynote address, music, entertainment, exhibitors, job fair, and networking! Registration includes the conference, 5 meals, and lodging or camping. Day rates also available.

Entertainment: Saturday night Talent Show, Open Mic Night, followed by a DJ dance party!

The California Association for Environmental and Outdoor Education’s mission is to advance the impact of environmental and outdoor education in California.

AEOE is a non-profit organization.

www.aeoe.org